College of Humanities and Social Sciences (CHSS) Principal, Professor Enos Njeru has officially welcomed National Defence College Students (NDC) admitted to various programmes in the Institutes of Diplomacy and International Studies (IDIS).

In his first official address to the 2016/2017 students at the Principal board room, Prof. Njeru congratulated the NDC students on their admission to the University of Nairobi.

The principal noted that the College of Humanities and Social Sciences was the biggest in the university and had thousands of successful alumni across the world. "You are joining a College with the highest number of students in the entire university with over 42,000 out of the total university student population of 84,000 representing a 62% of the total number of students in the University. In the current admission, out of a total of 5,475 students that the University has admitted, 2,284 students have been admitted to this College." said the Principal.

He however, reiterated that the College had enough resources and manpower to help the NDC students achieve their academic and professional dreams. "We have an abundant number of professors, lecturers and non-teaching staff to help you in your academic and social endeavors."

Director, (IDIS) Prof. Amb. Maria Nzomo on her part congratulated the NDC students on their admission to the University of Nairobi. The Director noted that the Institutes was one of its kind and had thousands of successful alumni across the world. She also noted that IDIS is among the best Institutes in Africa. She echoes the Principal sentiments that the Institutes had enough resources and manpower to help the NDC students achieve their academic and professional dreams. "We have the best lecturers and non-teaching staff to help you in your academic and social endeavors."

Prof Nzomo also challenged the NDC students to be focused and committed in their studies. Among those who attended the event were the Associate Director, Mr. Gerrishon Ikiara, Examination Officer Dr. Patrick Maluki, lecturers and non-teaching staff.
