ORIENTATION FOR UNDERGRADUATE B.A AND ORDINARY DIPLOMA JUNE 2017 INTAKE

The Institute of Diplomacy and International Studies (IDIS) has officially welcomed newly admitted students undergraduate first year self sponsored students (module II). Speaking during the orientation session at the 8-4-4 lecture hall on June 16,2017 Director IDIS, Prof. Maria Nzomo congratulated the first years on their admission to the University of Nairobi. "You have joined one of the best universities in Africa, we have highly qualified staff and state-of-the art teaching and research facilities." She said. During the Orientation she briefed the students about their responsibilities including attending classes and avoiding examination cheating. She challenged the new students to be focused and committed in their studies and advised them to be responsible and avoid risky situations while in campus.

Students were taken through the process of online registration, Examinations Regulations, courses offered, National values and Principles of Governance and advised on how to conduct themselves while in the university among others. The director called upon the students to observe university rules and regulations during their studies.

Also present during the event were the institute's teaching and non- teaching staff, ICT and library staff.
